Clifton Zachariah Taylor

Artist's Statement

These works are the result of quiet conversations between the light that I'm experiencing, the painting that is being constructed, and the myself. When I'm working, I find that every action and every observation reveals new questions that call out for a response in color, shape, or gesture. I seek to find ways to share the color and form that I'm experiencing to fully and truly express a mood, an emotion, a story. Along the way, I'm always trying to reveal the life and movement contained within the experience.
